Tourism Port Douglas Daintree Update

Update -26/03/2020 for TPDD CEO Tara Bennett

Right now, no one has the answers; Tourism Port Douglas Daintree doesn't, Douglas Shire Council doesn't, Douglas Chamber of Commerce doesn't, and while the state and federal governments are trying to reduce the impacts, they also can't answer the question of when we'll get our lives and livelihoods back. While TPDD doesn't have the solutions right now we are aligning ourselves to be positioned to advocate on your behalf and to provide answers and the way forward when the future is known. Travellers will come back. At first it will be a trickle and further on the horizon we know there will be pent up demand from international markets once confidence is restored, though it's going to take time.

In the past week we have rewritten our marketing plan three times, adapting to the changing climate and pivoting as required. Much of the activity for March, April and May has been pushed back including Discover Paradise distribution, a regional radio campaign, a wholesale sales incentive, and Welcome to Port Douglas Daintree production, while our social channels continue to engage travel planners for brighter days. We are now formulating plans to target regional, domestic and inbound travellers as each market reopens. In the meantime, TPDD is working on content to bolster our sustainable destination positioning, experience delivery gaps and address accessible tourism opportunities in the Douglas Shire.

For most of you it's probably a question of survival and what your business looks like once borders reopen and people begin to travel. TPDD will be here, supporting you and our community on the road to recovery.

The TPDD team are currently working from home in line with government recommendations but we are still here for you, if you need advice, to talk or a virtual hug please call Tara 0428 581 404 or Mikala 0408 174 754.

We are here to help you get through this anyway we can.

Yours in tourism and recovery,

Tara

TPDDs COVID-19 ('Rona) Plan

Our friends at Tourism Tropical North Queensland have developed five new initiatives to combat the current crisis which TPDD has adapted to our organisation and region's needs, these are:

1. Your Voice. TPDD will join Douglas Shire Councils' Economic Recovery Subgroup along with Douglas Chamber of Commerce and industry representatives to ensure the voice of tourism is being heard. Industry is invited to share ideas and concerns with me (eo@visitportdouglasdaintree.com) so your voice can be heard.
2. Supporting our People. TPDD will support with updates as the conduit for information between our industry and support agencies and we are happy to talk with anyone who may need a viral hug or just a chat. For the latest information please visit bit.ly/COVID-19_TPDD_Update

3. Inspire and Engage. TPDD messaging will focus on inspirational content creation to build demand for travel later in 2020. We invite our members to share stories, live feeds and updates as well as awesome social media content - please tag our Facebook and Instagram accounts, @PortDouglasDaintree. We will also call on passionate past visitors to share their stories.
4. Foundations of Recovery. TPDD is constantly evaluating primary and secondary markets ensuring that when visitors, starting with regional travel, domestic, and eventually global, are ready to travel we are top of their list of places to visit. This constantly evolving strategy will be shared with key stakeholders and members to bring everyone along with us.
5. Care for our Community. TPDD is committed to being a positive contributor to our economy through our local purchasing policy, contributing to and promoting community-based activities that support locals during these difficult times and assisting the business community in connecting with local purchasing opportunities.

CEO Update – 23/03/2020

Our hearts are aching watching our beloved Douglas tourism industry come to a standstill. We hope you are all keeping your heads above water in these very uncertain times.

I want to assure you that the TPDD team is here to support you through these unprecedented times and we are doing everything we can to keep you updated, share official advice and provide resources that may assist. With this in mind we have developed a dedicated page on our website where the latest updates will be available to you <https://www.visitportdouglasdaintree.com/covid-19-updates>

TPDD continues to monitor our markets and adjust our marketing plans to make sure once all current restrictions have been removed, we are ready to hit the ground running to make sure Douglas is first choice for travellers.

Please reach out to the TPDD team at any time.

CEO Update – 17/03/2020

The Douglas Shire is reeling from the escalation of measures to contain the global pandemic, the Coronavirus (COVID-19). We are in unprecedented times with our industry taking one hit after another as international travel comes to a standstill, domestic uncertainty sees upcoming Easter bookings soften and aviation capacity diminishing. This is a fast-moving environment with the situation and its impact changing quickly. Below we have a selection of resources to assist TPDD members in reducing the inevitable impact to their business and be aware of the resources available and government initiatives that are being developed to help businesses survive and start thinking about their recovery plans for the coming months.

The strategy at present is to pull back on marketing, but not pull out. With this in mind, TPDD will be postponing some of the planned tactical activity that was scheduled to take place in March and April until May and June to make sure we are on the front foot with targeted messaging and activities ready to go. Our destination marketing continues with a focus on the drive market to try stimulating regional visitation over the Easter period and beyond; ongoing digital messaging and preparing our recovery response when the situation changes.

Agility and collaboration, the catch phrases of recent years, are going to be critical to the destinations and industries recovery. TPDD is here to support the Douglas tourism industry through this unprecedented situation and will continue to provide updates as they come through while developing a robust recovery plan in alignment with stakeholders to get the destination front of mind when the world resumes travel planning

Tourism Australia

Update – 25/03/2020 from Phillipa Harrison Managing Director

Weekly Tourism Webinar Series Kicks off on Friday 27 March at 11am

As flagged in my last update, Tourism Australia will be hosting weekly webinars every Friday, to keep the industry connected and informed as you try to navigate your businesses and people through the current crisis. We will be bringing you the most up to date information direct from the relevant experts.

Minister for Trade, Tourism and Investment Simon Birmingham – Federal Government Update & Industry Support

First up will we be joined by the Minister for Trade, Tourism and Investment Simon Birmingham, who will give an update on the situation as relevant to the tourism sector from a Federal Government perspective. We will also be joined by a senior health official to provide further clarity, and I will provide an update on what Tourism Australia is doing.

Registration Essential – Limited numbers. Spaces are limited, so please register here.

Update – 24/03/2020 from Phillipa Harrison Managing Director

Australian Governments Respond – restrictions & support

Australian Governments have implemented further restrictions to slow the spread of the coronavirus, while at the same time introducing measures to support jobs, businesses and the economy through the crisis. There's been a lot to absorb, so at the bottom of this note is quite a lengthy summary.

Government Hotline for more information - 13 28 46

The Federal Government has established an advice hotline for small and medium-sized businesses (13 28 46).

Domestic Travel - avoid non-essential

You will have all seen the announcement for all non-essential travel to be avoided, made in the lead up to the school holidays.

TA's One Stop Shop for Industry Support – Updated Daily

To help you navigate the change and access any financial support available, we have created a One-Stop-Shop of information on our website.

TA Webinars Every Friday – Invites to come

Now that there is so much information out there as people face a mountain of decisions, and work remotely, we will be starting weekly webinars each Friday. This will start off with information specific to the tourism sector from experts ranging from what support is out there for the industry, to how to keep marketing and manage social media, and to how to best manage mental health. An invite will come out over the next day.

Update - 19/03/2020

5 steps businesses can take

In the midst of managing the business impacts of the crisis, here are 5 things you might want to think about:

1. Make sure you are following health and safety guidance from the Department of Health.
2. Communicate what health and safety measures you are taking in your business to your customers and partners.
3. The Department of Health has launched a national campaign to inform all Australians about the coronavirus. They have developed a range of resources for businesses to use, find out more here.
4. The Australian, State and Territory Governments have announced a series of measures to support businesses and individuals during this difficult time. Find out more here.
5. Look after your mental health and reach out if you need help.

Update – 17/03/2020

Tourism Australia are continuing to assess all their activities on a day by day basis in the current environment. All international campaign activity aimed at driving immediate bookings is being suspended. Any activities focused on shaping longer term consumer desire to visit Australia in the future are constantly under review to ensure their appropriateness and effectiveness. TA will provide an update in coming days in relation to ATE and Domestic campaign activities.

This morning The Palaszczuk Government announced that it will create a new $500 million loan facility, interest free for the first 12 months, to support businesses to keep Queenslanders in work and extend the coronavirus payroll tax deferral to all businesses across the state. TTNQ will continue to give updated advice on the coronavirus crisis and where you can access business support on our corporate website.

Update -24/03/2020 from Mark Olsen CEO

Tourism Tropical North Queensland was created 45 years ago, because we are greater when we are together.

Now more than ever our industry needs to pull together to support each other and weather the storm of global uncertainty, so that we can come out the other side stronger than if we face the challenges alone.

TTNQ is acutely aware of the size of the challenge of the weeks and months ahead. Every business in our region will be affected. Our role continues to be as the amplifier of the voice of the industry, the voice of compassion, the voice of reason, the voice of inspiration and the voice of hope. When the globe emerges from this worldwide health emergency, people will be looking for places they can reconnect, revitalise and renew. Places they can just breathe, and that place is here in Cairns and Great Barrier Reef.

For us to recover we need to act now to stop the spread so that we can be ready to respond. That means immediately implementing the social distancing policy and sticking to it. Let's respond now, to be ready later to welcome the world with open arms.

TTNQ will be shifting its focus from destination awareness and conversion to industry support and inspiration. We will do this through five new initiatives across the business:

1) Your Voice

TTNQ will join Advance Cairns, Cairns Chamber of Commerce, Cairns Regional Council and other key local bodies on an Economic Response and Recovery Steering Committee to ensure the voice of tourism is being heard at all levels of Government. Industry is invited to share ideas and concerns directly with me so your voice can be heard. We will establish a list of Industry Advocacy Priorities and share these with you. We will share industry updates by video three times a week.

2) Supporting our People

TTNQ will work with the key employment agencies to ensure that staff who are looking for work locally are being supported. We will be working with other sectors that have short-term staffing needs to help connect our people with short term opportunities so they can return when we recover.

3) Inspire and Engage

TTNQ will be moving our messaging to inspirational content creation and invite our members to share stories, live feeds and updates as well as awesome social media content that we can share through our channels. We will be aiming to build our global audience of loyal followers ready to share our story. We are keen to co-create content with you and work with your teams to inspire them around the brand through webinars.

4) Foundations of Recovery

TTNQ is building our recovery marketing platform ensuring that when visitors, starting with locals and expanding globally, are ready and it is safe to return to travelling that we are already top of their list of places to visit. We will map out and share our approach and would be keen to get your input and involvement.

5) Care for our Community

TTNQ is committed to being a positive contributor to our community through our local purchasing policy, contributing to community-based activities that help to lift our spirits in these difficult times, and working with Councils and the LTOs to offer our support to local initiatives that build stronger community spirit and support.

TTNQ's purpose is to support our industry to be successful, sustainable and resilient. We are here to support our industry through these turbulent times and if you think there is something more we could do please don't hesitate to let me know by contacting me on ceo@ttnq.org.au.

TTNQ will continue to give updated advice on the coronavirus crisis and where you can access business support on our corporate website.

Update – 17/03/2020

The Board and CEO of TTNQ, on the invitation of Federal Member for Leichhardt Warren Entsch, meet with the Federal Tourism Minister Simon Birmingham yesterday along with Champion members, Advance Cairns and the Cairns Chamber of Commerce to discuss the current situation and how the Federal Government can shape its response.

Five key themes were identified with a range of immediate response and mid-term recovery measures discussed. The key themes and responses included:

- Managing the message
- Supporting staff short term
- Retaining talent: Waiving GST
- Maintaining the diversity of businesses in the region: Interest free loans
- Driving future demand

ATEC – North Queensland Branch

Update – 23/03/2020

Update from ATEC CEO – Peter Shelley

We find ourselves in an unprecedented crisis. Businesses on their knees, revenues instantly gone and the challenge of passengers trying to find their way home before the border's close tonight. ATEC is doing what we can to support you, including strong advocacy to Governments across the country to urgently deliver practical financial support for the many businesses under pressure. Today, we shared an open letter to the PM and Federal Ministers, and we've written to every Premier and Chief Minister across the country to urgently throw their support in behind our industry.

We are here, we are listening and acting on your behalf and hope that when this all passes, we will be ready to #bringbackbetter and rebuild this great industry of ours.

Calls for government support

We've been really pushing hard for government to step up for our industry and deliver practical measures which will help keep doors open and staff employed. The initial federal stimulus package, whilst welcomed, did little to offer any real support as the situation escalated rapidly and access to funds has been slow. Our open letter to Government was widely circulated today, and ATEC has written to every Premier and Chief Minister calling for urgent and immediate support.

ATEC COVID-19 webinar

COVID-19 Update Webinar (save the date)

ATEC will be running COVID-19 industry update via webinar next week to help all members stay up-to-date with the rapidly changing circumstances, and the impact the virus is having on our industry. The webinar will feature senior presenters from the Department of Health (an update on the spread of the virus), the Government Treasury (an overview of the Government stimulus package), and Tourism Australia (an update on the impact the virus is having on our inbound tourism sector).

Details

When: Wednesday 25 March

Time: 1.00 – 2.00 pm (EDT)

Registration to open on Monday 23 March

Borders are closed

Australia is closing its borders to all non-citizens and non-residents. The entry ban takes effect from 9pm AEDT Friday, 20 March 2020, with exemptions only for Australian citizens, permanent residents and their immediate family, including spouses, legal guardians and dependants. New Zealand citizens who live in Australia as Australian residents are also exempt, as are New Zealanders transiting to New Zealand. Exemptions for Pacific Islanders transiting to their home countries will continue to apply. Australian citizens and permanent residents and those exempt from our entry restrictions will continue to be subject to a strict 14 days self-isolation.

Government has indicated that this will be reviewed 'weekly'.

Battening down the hatches

We are heartened to hear plenty of positivity about what recovery looks like when it arrives. But in the meantime, we are making sure we apply the necessary prudent fiscal measures here at ATEC as well. All travel and any non-essential expenditure have been frozen, and we have a sensible crisis management plan activated. And of course, reach out for a chat either via phone or email anytime.

Douglas Shire Council

Update – 25/03/2020

As a precautionary response to reduce the risk of COVID-19 within the community, travel on the Daintree Ferry will be restricted to local residents and essential services only from midday Thursday, March 26.

Update – 23/03/2020

Coronavirus business support

If your business has been affected by the coronavirus, we have a team of dedicated customer representatives who can help you on 13 28 46. Our dedicated team will be available between 7am - 9pm across Australia, Monday to Sunday.

Updated Information – business.gov.au

The Australian Government has announced additional measures to support businesses impacted by the coronavirus.

Additional announcements include:

Boosting cash flow for employers

Up to $100,000 to eligible small and medium-sized businesses, and not for-profits (NFPs) that employ people, with a minimum payment of $20,000

Under the enhanced scheme, employers will receive a payment equal to 100 per cent of their salary and wages withheld (up from 50 per cent), with the maximum payment being increased from $25,000 to $50,000. In addition, the minimum payment is being increased from $2,000 to $10,000.

An additional payment is also being introduced in the July – October 2020 period. Eligible entities will receive an additional payment equal to the total of all of the Boosting Cash Flow for Employers payments they have received. This means that eligible entities will receive at least $20,000 up to a total of $100,000 under both payments.

Temporary Flexibility in the Corporations Act 2001

Temporarily increasing the threshold at which creditors can issue a statutory demand on a company and the time companies have to respond to statutory demands they receive.

The ATO will tailor solutions for owners or directors of business that are currently struggling due to the Coronavirus, including temporary reduction of payments or deferrals, or withholding enforcement actions including Director Penalty Notices and wind-ups.

Coronavirus SME Guarantee Scheme

The Government will provide a guarantee of 50 per cent to SME lenders to support new short-term unsecured loans to SMEs. The Scheme will guarantee up to $40 billion of new lending. The Government is cutting red tape by providing a temporary exemption from responsible lending obligations for lenders providing credit to existing small business customers. This reform will help small businesses get access to credit quickly and efficiently.

Reserve Bank of Australia – Term Funding Facility for the Banking System

Banks will have access to at least $90 billion in funding at a fixed interest rate of 0.25 per cent. This will reinforce the benefits of a low cash rate by reducing funding costs for banks, which in turn will help reduce interest rates for borrowers. To encourage lending to businesses, the facility offers additional low-cost funding to banks if they expand their business lending, with particular incentives applying to new loans to SMEs.

The Government is providing the Australian Office of Financial Management (AOFM) with $15 billion to invest in structured finance markets used by smaller lenders. This program will assist smaller lenders, who will not benefit from the RBA's term funding facility, to maintain access to funding and support competition in the lending market. This in turn will help keep mortgages and other borrowing costs for businesses low.

Income Support for Individuals

Over the next six months, the Government is temporarily expanding eligibility to income support payments and establishing a new, time-limited Coronavirus supplement to be paid at a rate of $550 per fortnight.

Visit Services Australia for further information on assistance for individuals.

Visit business.gov.au for details on the complete assistance available:

Support available for sole traders

Support available for employers

Support available for companies

Supporting sole traders through the effects of Coronavirus

The Morrison Government is expanding the eligibility criteria for JobSeeker Payment to support sole traders and Australians who are self-employed if their income is negatively affected by the economic impact of the Coronavirus.

Under temporary changes to social security rules sole traders will be encouraged to keep their business operating but may be able to access income support should their earnings take a significant hit.

Minister for Families and Social Services Anne Ruston said the changes mean that sole traders who were now eligible for JobSeeker or Youth Allowance (other) would also receive the $550 fortnightly Coronavirus supplement.

Refer to MyGov for up to date details.

Update – 19/03/2020

The Queensland Government earlier this week announced that it will create a new $500 million loan facility, interest-free for the first 12 months, to support businesses and keep Queenslanders in work. It will also extend the coronavirus payroll tax deferral to all businesses across the state. Find out more here

This support is in addition to the $27.25m Immediate Industry Recovery Package announced last month

Queensland National Parks

Update- 26/03/2020

During this time of uncertainty, we are committed to taking every precautionary measure to protect the health and safety of our visitors and employees. In response to #COVID-19 (coronavirus) ALL camping areas in Queensland national parks, state forests and recreation areas are closed until further notice.

Campers who are currently on site will be notified today to prepare to leave within the next 24 to 48 hours.

Four-wheel drive trails, mountain bike trails, walking tracks and trails, bushwalks and national park coastal walks, remain open.

People who are visiting these areas and taking part in recreation activities in national parks and other areas, should continue to follow the Queensland Health advice about not travelling outside of their local area and for public gatherings and social distancing.

Update -23/03/2020

Domestic Trade Summary

The majority of the domestic market trade has advised that whilst retail stores will be remaining open at present, no marketing/advertising campaigns will be undertaken in the short term to try and revive business.

Flight Centre - all marketing on hold for March and April with future activity to be constantly reviewed. Will look to feature product specials online, presently in recovery plan with domestic expected to bounce back first and will be their priority.

Helloworld - no plans as yet on when active marketing or advertising will be taking place. Retail stores will focus on drive market within their own region with specials and offers. Helloworld product seeking all products to roll over this season rates for 2021-22 to encourage clients to postpone instead of cancel. This is recommended, but ensure you update your seasons for 2021-22 with the school holidays.

Ignite - a core part of much of TTNQ advertising over the last 12 months, the TTNQ campaign scheduled for 1 April has been postponed to 1 May

Update – 19/03/2020

Department of Health

The Australian Government has announced a COVID-19 National Health Plan – Primary Care – Bulk Billed MBS Telehealth Services.

The temporary Medicare Benefits Schedule (MBS) and Department of Veterans' Affairs (DVA) items will allow doctors, nurses, midwives and mental health professionals to deliver services via telehealth provided those services are bulk billed.

The new MBS items will allow people to access essential health services in their home while they undergo self-isolation or quarantine and reduce the risk of exposure to COVID-19 for vulnerable people in the community. This is a temporary six-month measure. Click here to view the fact sheet.

Beyond Blue

During difficult times, it's important to take every opportunity to support your mental health and wellbeing. Beyond Blue have shared some tips below for how you can cope with the impact of coronavirus (COVID-19).

Members of the Beyond Blue community continue to support one another at their dedicated 'Coping with the coronavirus' online forum thread: bb.org.au/33cNdQU. It's a safe place where anyone can share how they're feeling about the coronavirus and offer support to those affected. You can also visit their dedicated information page about mental health and the coronavirus here.

If you're feeling distressed or overwhelmed, Beyond Blue have mental health professionals available 24/7 at the Beyond Blue Support Service on 1300 22 4636 or at beyondblue.org.au/getsupport for online chat (3pm-12am AEST) and email (responses within 24 hours).

For immediate support call Lifeline on 13 11 14 and in an emergency, always call triple zero (000).
